Jane works as professional photographer in a company. He is continuously downloading images on his computer and wants to keep these images organized automatically according to their metadata. What's the best way to do so?

A. Create metadata filters.
B. Create smart collections.
C. Create collections.
D. Use the path bar.

Answer: B

Explanation: You can automatically add files to a collection by using smart collections. Smart collections continuously look in the specified location for files containing metadata matching the criteria you tell them to look for. When a file is found, Bridge adds it to the smart collection, even if it's a new file.Answer option C is incorrect. Collections are essentially folders of files that exist only in Bridge. This is a way for you to associate files as you would like, rather than by their location on your computer.Answer option A is incorrect. You can search for files that have common metadata and keywords by using Bridge.Answer option D is incorrect. When navigating in Bridge, the path bar shows the location of the currently selected folder.
